

Sacred Water, Shared Future event series

Honoring land, water, and cultural connections

Saturday, September 26 from 1 to 4 p.m.

Owámniyomni Okhódayapi
100 Portland Ave S, Minneapolis

Mill Ruins Parking Lot
100 W. River Pkwy, Minneapolis

Join us for a community gathering along Haha Wakpa (Mississippi River) to honor Dakota history, cultural teachings, and our shared responsibility to care for land, water, and one another.

Hear from community speakers and visit the market and resource fair. The event will bring together Native vendors, community partners, and residents to connect, reflect, and celebrate.

Vendor registration

Register your organization or small business to participate in the community market featuring American Indian vendors and community organizations.
